

Winter Living Spring 2024 Seminar

Course Description

Join your BioHouse peers and faculty director, Jon Pauli, in an outdoors-oriented exploration of the myriad ways plants, animals, and humans adjust to winter living. What you learn may directly apply to your academic and career plans in biology or your lifetime recreation interests. Class meets in-person, usually in an outdoor setting on or near campus. Break your routine and expand your interests and activity.

Course Information

Course Name: Integrated Science 375; Section 3; Class Number 62222

Day & Time: Saturdays*, 1:00-3:00 PM

Location: Primarily outdoors. Sometimes in Leopold Hall B112 for indoor instruction.

Instructor: Dr. Jon Pauli

* this seminar does not meet every Saturday. There are 8 class sessions throughout the semester.